From an Oconee Canning Club Girl.

(Winthrop Weekly News.)
Westminster, March 24, 1920.
I am a member of the Girls' Tomato Club. I joined because it would benefit me in many ways. I have learned to grow my own plants, and when and how to plant them; have also learned the right way to can vegetables so that they will be fresh when opened. I have been a member of the club one year. I have planted beans and tomatoes, and had good results. I had one-twentieth of an acre in beans, and from this patch sold 32 gallons and canned and used some in other ways that I didn't keep account of. My tomatoes were extra fine. I canned forty quarts, sold $10 worth and used some in other ways. I have learned many things by being a member of the club—among them the fact that I can have beans and tomatoes for winter, and extra money that I wouldn't have.

I went to Clemson, Agricultural College of South Carolina for the county short course and learned a great many things that I would not otherwise have known.
I have now moved to a community where there is not a club, but am trying to work up one so that I can continue the work.

ODD FELLOWS ELECT OFFICERS.

Convention Closed 1920 Session at Charleston Last Thursday.

Charleston, May 14.—Delegates to the annual convention of the Odd Fellows of South Carolina returned to their home yesterday, having had a two days' session and an enjoyable stay in Charleston. The sessions combined both business and pleasure. Grand Master J. P. Carlisle presiding throughout the session.

The orphans' home was continued, a central managing committee being provided in the persons of Frank J. Tripp, of Pelzer, treasurer, and W. E. Hammond, of Greenville, secretary, which committee will have entire charge of the minor details of running the orphan home.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

Grand Master—E. P. Schimney, of Orangeburg.

Deputy Grand Master—J. T. Cochran, of Spartanburg.

Grand Warden—Eugene S. Blease, of Newberry.

Grand Secretary—S. F. Killingsworth, of Columbia.

Grand Treasurer—H. Endel, of Greenville.

Grand Chaplain—J. K. P. Neathery, of Columbia.

Grand Representative (for five-year term)—J. P. Carlisle, of Greenville; for two-year term, Wilson G. Harvey, Charleston.

The election of Wilson G. Harvey as Grand Representative for the long term, which is the most coveted office within the gift of the Grand Lodge, was a deserved recognition of Mr. Harvey's long and faithful identification with the Odd Fellows of South Carolina.

Grand Master J. P. Carlisle dispatched the business in a most expeditious manner. Many questions arose during the session of the present Grand Lodge which brought out interesting debate. The order has progressed very materially in the State during the past year, the membership being double what it was a few years ago.

The next meeting place will be Columbia, in May, 1921.

SENECA NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Merchants Will Co-operate in Great Effort to Reduce Living Costs.

Seneca, May 18.—Special: John Cary, a member of the senior class at Clemson College, spent Saturday and Sunday with homefolks here.

Mrs. E. C. Doyle has returned home from Hot Springs, Ark., where she spent several weeks.

Mrs. Clive Folger and Ben and Helen Folger, of Pendleton, were visiting in Seneca Saturday.

The sixth grade of the Seneca school enjoyed an all-day picnic at the Smith farm last Saturday. A bountiful dinner was spread, after which wading in the brook added a spice of rural life to the entertainment. Miss Clyde Smith is the teacher of this grade, and the children are indebted to her for a happy day.

Mrs. W. E. Davis, of Clemson College, was visiting in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornley Cary, of Honea Path, spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Cary. It is a pleasure to the many friends of these young people to have them visit Seneca.

Miss Josie Dendy, Miss Helen Harper and Miss Grace Alexander were the week-end guests of Miss Sally Alexander at her home at Fairview.

Mrs. Lee G. Holleman and Mrs. Townes Holleman, of Anderson, were in town Saturday.

John Knox sustained a fractured right arm on Sunday while cranking his Ford car.

The Once-a-Week Club was delightfully entertained last Thursday by Mrs. J. S. Strubling. Little Miss Susan Strubling assisted in serving the refreshments and entertaining the guests. Miss Burgess, of Washington, D. C., was present and spoke most interestingly of notable events in the National Capital during the past year.

The Wizard of Tamassee Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet with Mrs. Warren R. Davis at her home near town this (Wednesday) afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Miss Sallie Burgess, of Washington, D. C., is visiting at the home of her brother, Dr. J. H. Burgess, on Walhalla street.

Clean-up week for our town will begin Sunday with services, along that line, in the different churches. The city board of health intends to start right, and keep right, during "fly-time," which will prove gratifying news to every one.

The merchants of Seneca will, on May 27th, 28th and 29th, make a reduction in prices on certain lines of goods, following the lead of the large department stores in the cities. This is a move in the direction of reducing the cost of living. Mrs. S. K. Dendy, local Thrift Chairman, acting upon a request from national headquarters, is the instigator of this movement locally.

Information has come to us that the junior-senior reception at Winthrop College last Friday evening was possibly the most brilliant entertainment ever held at that institution, and that Dr. Johnson, in his speech of commendation to the juniors, stressed his belief that Winthrop girls can do anything they may undertake to do. Oconee county has a number of girls in this class.

DEAD AS RESULT RAZOR PARTY.

Anderson Negroes Takes Life of Another in Jealous Rage.

(Anderson Mail, 15th.)
Met Smith, a negro, 30 years of age, was fatally cut this morning about 7 o'clock on the farm of Pierce McCauley, several miles southeast of the city. The woman was cut by Millie Clinkscales, another negro, the wounds being about her throat. She was rushed to Anderson in an automobile as soon as possible, but died before the machine could reach the hospital.

Mr. McCauley stated that the negroes had some trouble about a negro man, Sam Smith, who, when he was paid off, aroused his wife's ire over some money matters in which Millie Clinkscales had some connection.

Two women met this morning at a well and started walking home together, wrangling as they went. Met Smith struck the Clinkscales woman over the head with a stick, and her husband, Harrison Clinkscales, who was working in a nearby field, saw the start of the fight and came to the scene, hitting Met Smith over the head and knocking her down. His wife had then regained her feet and sprang upon the prostrate woman, cutting her throat with a razor.

John Winfield, another negro, was near the scene with this automobile, which he was filling with gasoline, and he rushed the wounded woman to Anderson as fast as possible, but she died before he could reach the hospital with her.

Millie Clinkscales and her husband, Harrison Clinkscales, were arrested shortly after the affair and are now in jail.

SENATE VOTES TO END THE WAR

House Has to Act Yet—President, it is Certain, Will Veto.

Washington, May 15.—With few thrills and no hitch in the prearranged program, the Senate to-day adopted, 43 to 38, the Republican resolution declaring the state of war with Germany and Austria-Hungary at an end.

The measure was in the form of a substitute for the peace resolution recently adopted by the House, which dealt with Germany alone. The two proposals will be adjusted in conferences beginning next week, the result to be endorsed by both houses, and the final resolution to be sent to the President for his signature.

That the President will veto it is a foregone conclusion, unchallenged by any speaker during the debate in the House or Senate.

It is uncertain when the final resolution will reach the White House, but Republican leaders anticipate no difficulty in putting through a conference draft with little delay.

MISTRIAL IN GOSNELL CASE.

Stated that Jury Stood Eight for Acquittal, Four for Conviction.

A reply to inquiry over the long distance phone yesterday evening before closing our columns brought the reply that the jury in the Gosnell case had failed to agree on a verdict and had been dismissed, the Court ordering a mistrial.

Our informant stated that it was reported that the jury stood eight for acquittal and four for conviction.

Mr. Gosnell was, it was stated, arranging at the time our message was forwarded, for bond and would be released from custody yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Gosnell is well known all over the upper part of South Carolina. He has been in the Federal revenue service for several years, and is known as a capable, efficient and fearless officer.

Gosnell shot and killed Sheriff Rector, of Greenville county, in a garage in the city of Greenville, on the 4th of July, 1919, and there had been bad feeling between the two officers for a long time. It was just one year before the tragedy that ended in the death of Sheriff Rector that the latter had attacked Gosnell, knocking him down and giving him severe bodily injury. This attack took place on the 4th of July, 1918, and while the two men frequently met, it is stated that there had never been any indication of the possibility of a resumption of friendly relations.

Those familiar with the case throughout never looked for any outcome other than that one of the two men would eventually be called upon to give up his life.

Special Services at Salem.

There will be all-day services and dinner on the grounds at Salem Methodist church, beginning at 10 a. m., next Sunday, May 23. Rev. L. D. Gillespie, secretary of the Upper South Carolina Conference; Rev.

CHATTANOOGA WAS CHOSEN

As Meeting Place of Baptists Next Year—Will Meet in May.

Washington, May 15.—Chattanooga, Tenn., to-day was chosen by the Southern Baptist Convention as the meeting place for its 76th annual session in May, 1921. The choice of Chattanooga was made after a hot fight by adherents of Hot Springs, Ark.

Heated arguments as to the relative merits of the two cities developed, but Chattanooga held her lead from the beginning, and the vote was finally made unanimous for the Tennessee city.

Dr. H. L. Winburn, of Arkadelphia, Ark., was chosen to preach the 1921 convention sermon, with Dr. R. M. Inlow, of Memphis, Tenn., as alternate.

Efforts to advance the date for the holding of the convention until later in May, in order that opportunity might be given to students in schools and colleges to attend the meeting, but it was finally decided to retain the usual date.

ALL CENSUS RECORDS BROKEN.

Detroit Suburbs Show Increases of More than Thousand Per Cent.

Washington, May 15.—All records for increases in population as reported in the 1920 census were broken to-day by two Detroit suburbs—Hamtramck and Highland Park—which since 1910 have increased 1,266 and 1,031 per cent, respectively.

Neither Hamtramck nor Highland had more than a few thousand inhabitants ten years ago. Detroit automobile factory workers sought the two towns for homes, and to-day the census bureau reported a population of 48,615 for Hamtramck and 46,596 for Highland Park.

Prior to to-day's report Kenmore, Ohio, with an increase of 712.5 per cent, held the record for population growth. Kenmore, however, is considerably smaller than the two Michigan towns, having only 12,683 inhabitants.
